

AUTHORS

Alam Iqbal, Badar

School of economics and finance Monarch University Zug. Ex-Fullbright Visiting Professor, began his career in 1978, as an Academician in various capacities and stature, such as, Lecturer during 1978 to 1986, Reader during 1986 to 1998, Professor since July 1998; Dean during March 17, 2006 to July 16, 2008, in the Faculty of Commerce, and Officiated as Vice Chancellor during December 23 to 26, 2007, and from February 2, to February 6, 2008 and presently working as Full Professor in the Department of Commerce, Aligarh Muslim University, India. Prof. Iqbal was Member of University Court (Highest Body) and University's Executive Council (Syndicate) for two years i.e., between March 2006 and March 2008. He was also the Member of Academic Council of the University. In 2010 he again has become a Member of University Court. In September 2011, Prof. Iqbal has been invited by SAARC Chamber of Commerce and Industry to speak on SAFTA at SAARC Business Leaders Conclave at Katmandu, Nepal.

Berasaluce Iza, Julen

Holds a BA in Economics from the University of the Basque Country, a Master in Quantitative Economics from the Université Paris 1 Panthéon-Sorbonne and the Autonomous University of Barcelona and a PhD in Economics from the Autonomous University of Barcelona. He is currently professor and researcher at the Center for Economic Studies of El Colegio de México and belongs to the National System of Researchers. He is specialized in industrial policy topics and development experiences in Asian countries.

Fitriani, Evi

Evi is a senior lecturer of the International Relations Department, Faculty of Social and Political Sciences, Universitas Indonesia (Dept. HI FISIP UI) and the Head of the Department from 2012 to 2016. She is co-founder of the University's Master Program of European Studies as well as the ASEAN Study Center of FISIP UI. She is also the Indonesian Country Coordinator of the Network of East Asian Think-tanks (NEAT). She obtained her PhD from the Australian National University (ANU) in 2011 on Political Sciences and International Relations. She was educated and trained in international relations in Indonesia, the UK, and the USA, as well as in Japan, Sweden, the Netherlands, and Hungary. Over the last 25 years, she has involved in international collaborative research or projects and obtained more than 13 international awards or scholarships. Her research interests are Indonesian foreign policy, ASEAN, Asian regionalism, Indonesia-Australia relations, and Asia-Europe relations. Evi's publications include South-east Asians and the Asia-Europe Meeting (ASEM): State's interests and institution's longevity (ISEAS Singapore 2014), "The Trump Presidency and Indonesia" (Contemporary Southeast Asia, April 2017), "The Impact of the EU Crisis on EU-ASEAN Relations" (Geopolitics, History, and International Relations, 2014).

Glinkina, Svetlana P.

Doctor in Economics, Professor, Head of the Academic Department of International Economic and Political Studies, Institute of Economics, Russian Academy of Sciences, Head of General Economic Theory chair, Moscow School of Economics, M.V. Lomonosov Moscow State University. Education: Moscow State Institute of International Relations, International Journalism, 1977 Graduated with honors Semester study at Budapest Economic Institute, Hungary Post-graduate course at the Institute for International Economic and Political Studies, Russian Academy of Sciences, Moscow 3-month-long post-graduate course at the Co-operative Institute, Budapest, Hungary Candidate of Sciences (Economics), 1981 Doctor of Sciences (Economics), 1999 Title of Professor conferred in 3-month IREX scholarship at the American University, Washington, D.C. with the project on Shadow Economy and Organized Crime in Russia April 1995-March 1997 – grant of McArthur Foundation for the project on Organized Crime Study Centers in Russia (economist of the project). Research Fields: Theory and practice of system transformation; International integration theory and practice; Socioeconomic and political development of post-socialist countries; Informal economy and corruption; Current condition and prospects of BRICS.

Jacob, Jabin T.

Fellow, Institute of Chinese Studies & Associate Editor, China Report. Fellow (Associate Professor) at the Institute of Chinese Studies, Delhi. He was previously Assistant Director of the Institute from 2011 to 2016. He holds a PhD in Chinese Studies from the School of International Studies, Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi and has spent time as a student and researcher in Taiwan, France and Singapore. Jacob's research interests include China-South Asia relations, Indian and Chinese foreign policies in their near neighborhood, Sino-Indian border areas, and centre-province relations in China. Jacob is co-editor of a book each on India's foreign policy and India-China relations.

Jie, Sun

Member of the Institute of World Economy and Politics at the Chinese Academy of Social Sciences (CASS). Senior Fellow of the Institute of World Economics and Politics; Deputy President of the Academic Committee of the Institute of World Economics and Politics; Member of the Academic Committee of the Chinese Academy of Social Sciences; Managing Editor, The Journal of World Economy, Great Wall Scholar of the Chinese Academy of Social Sciences; Visiting Scholar in the University of Illinois at Urbana/Champaign, the U.S.A. Visiting Research Fellow in the Institute of Developing Economies, Japan. Field of expertise: Monetary Economic, International Money and Finance, Corporate Finance.

Mahdi Munadi, Sayed

Former Researcher at Center for Strategic Studies, MFA, Afghanistan; Current Second Secretary of the Embassy of I.R of Afghanistan in Beijing, China. He joined the Ministry of Foreign Affairs as a member of CSS in 2013. Mr. Munadi holds a BA and an MA in Politics and International Relations from Kabul University. Mr. Munadi is the author of several research and analytic works with particular focus on Afghanistan's regional integration which have been published in academic journals and as book-chapters. He has also translated a book into Dari from English titled: 'Towards a More Cooperative South Asia'. In addition, he has presented his work at various national and international conferences. He is also a university lecturer currently teaching modules on Principles of International Relations at a number of private Afghan universities in Kabul.

Minwang, Lin

Associate Professor from the Institute of International Studies, Fudan University, Deputy Director of the Center for South Asia Study, Fudan University. He graduated with the doctoral degree from China Foreign Affairs University, 2008. He worked as second secretary in China's Embassy in India (New Delhi) from 2013-2014. His research interest fall into two general areas: International Relations in South Asia, especially on sino-India relations; and IR theory.

Moneta, Carlos Juan

Director of a Master Degree on Economy and Business with Asia Pacific and India, Universidad Nacional de Tres de Febrero, Argentina.

Oropeza Casas, Arturo

Has a Bachelor in Law from ITAM in Mexico City and a Masters in economic law from Stanford University. He also studied Chinese language in Beijing Language and Culture University. Currently he is a visiting attorney at King & Spalding LLP where he focuses in commercial and investment arbitration.

Oropeza García, Arturo

Mexican academic specialized in international economic law, comparative law, and regional integration systems. He graduated PHD with honors from UNAM-Mexico's National University. Mr. Oropeza has appeared as an arbitrator in Mercosur dispute resolutions panels appointed by Brazil. He also has lectured at diverse universities and institutions around the world included China, Asia, Latin America, Europe and Africa, as well as participated in more than 30 publications regarding legal and economic impact in globalization, especially in the regions of Latin America, North America, East Asia and China.

Shkolyar, Nikolay

Economic adviser Embassy of Russia in Mexico, professor and PhD in International Economics. Researcher at Institute of Latin American Studies Russian Academy of Sciences (ILA-RAN).

Toktomushev, Kemel

Research Fellow, Institute of Public Policy and Administration, University of Central Asia, Kyrgyz Republic. Graduated, PhD in Politics and International Relations, University of Exeter, UK. 2015. Doctoral Research: “The Regime Security and Kyrgyz Foreign Policy”. MSc in International Relations, London School of Economics and Political Science, London, UK. BA in International and Comparative Politics, American University of Central Asia, Bishkek, Kyrgyz Republic. Kemel served as the Director of Communications and Public Relations at the American University of Central Asia and has also worked at the UNDP and Tolerance International UK. Kemel’s research interests include regime security and the foreign policy of Central Asian states and the strengthening of research capacity and evidence-based policymaking in Afghanistan and Central Asia. His book, “Kyrgyzstan: Regime Security and Foreign Policy” was published by Routledge and is based on his PhD dissertation completed at the University of Exeter. Over the past 5 years, he has worked as an Associate Professor at the American University of Central Asia and as a Teaching and Research Fellow at the OSCE Academy in Bishkek.

Wijayasiri, Janaka

Research Fellow and Head of International Economic Policy research at Institute of Policy Studies IPS, Sri Lanka. Since joining the IPS in 1999, his areas of research interest have been primarily related to trade issues at the bilateral, regional and multilateral levels. These include issues of policy significance to Sri Lanka in areas covering bilateral and regional preferential trade initiatives, multilateral negotiations under the World Trade Organization (WTO) and issues related to the textile and garment, tea and spice industries in Sri Lanka. He has been part of Sri Lanka’s official delegation representing the academia at regional forums such as Bay of Bengal Initiative for Multi-Sectoral Technical and Economic Cooperation (BIMSTEC) and the Indian Ocean Rim Association for Regional Cooperation (IOR-ARC). He has also participated in various bilateral trade negotiations with other countries which Sri Lanka currently seeking agreements with. He has a number of publications to his name which have appeared as articles and chapters in both journal and book publications. He is a member of the Editorial Board of Journal of Indian Ocean Rim Studies (JIORS). Janaka Wijayasiri holds a BA in Economics with Development Studies from the University of Sussex, UK and an MA in Economics of Development from the Institute of Social Studies, the Netherlands, and PhD from Monash University, Australia. He has also received training in GTAP (Global Trade Analysis Project) from the Center for Global Trade Analysis, Purdue University, Canada.

Xiaochen, Chen

Director of International Studies Department of Chongyang Institute for Financial Studies at Renmin University of China (RDCY). Master in International Relations. Graduate from School of International Studies, Peking University. 3 years working experience as journalist of China Business News & int'l traveller will develop a think tank affiliated to China Business. Specialties: International relations, strategy, climate change, reporting.

Xixia, Li

Master of Laws (Juris Doctor) and Master Degree in English Language, is Assistant Professor at the Institute of International Law Chinese Academy of Social Sciences and Deputy Director of the Editorial Board of Chinese Review of International Law. She majors in labour standards, social security law and women's social rights law. Li Xixia's major publications include the followings: Labor Standards in Free Trade Agreement; A New Understanding of the Rule of Law: A Comparative Law Analysis, The Reform of Social Insurance in China and the Development of Legal Systems.

Zang, DongSheng

Associate Professor of Law, Director of Asian Law Center, University of Washington School of Law. Director, Graduate Program in Asian and Comparative Law. Director, Graduate Program in Global Business Law Associate Professor of Law. His academic interests include international trade Law, and comparative study of Chinese Law, with a focus on the role of Law and state in response to social crises in the social transformation in China. He holds an S.J.D. and LL.M. from Harvard Law School, in addition to his LL.M. from Renmin University (Beijing) and LL.B. from Beijing College of Economics. His doctoral dissertation, One-way Transparency: The Establishment of the Rule-based International Trade Order and the Predicament of Its Jurisprudence, was awarded the 2004 Yong K. Kim '95 prize. He was a research fellow at the East Asia Legal Studies at Harvard Law School during the 2004-05 academic year.